ANOTHER RESIGNATION
BY MR. ALLIS.
He Gives Up a $5000 Position on the Commission to Revise the Statutes.

Governor Marcus H. Holcomb has received communication from Wallace S. Allis, of this city, in which Mr. Allis says that owing to the condition of his health he will be unable to attend to his duties as a member of the commission on the revision of the statutes to which he was appointed by the governor.

Wednesday forenoon Mr. Healy had a conference with the governor on the work of the commission have not yet received a decision from the governor on the matter.

It is more than likely the governor will appoint a successor to Mr. Allis if he is unable to do the work. The latter will undertake the work.

It was said in this connection that there is a precedent for not appointing a successor in the action that was taken in 1888 when a member of the commission, who was unable to do the work owing to illness. The originally appointed commission of 1888 consisted of five members, of which Senator George P. McLean was one, but the work was done by four. On the other hand the law creating the present commission expressly states that it shall consist of six. It is held by some that Governor Holcomb has no alternative except to appoint a person to take the place of Mr. Allis in the latter finds it impossible to do the work.

When Governor Holcomb was asked on Tuesday if Mr. Allis had resigned from the commission he replied: "He has practically resigned."

The compensation attached to the position is $5,000 and $1,000 for expenses. The commission is required to report to the legislature on the revision of the statutes at the session of 1917.

SCHOOL BOARDS WERE APPOINTED

Miss Winifred Driscoll and Miss Lillian Calkins Chosen From Many Applicants at Meeting of Town School Board Tuesday Night—Schools to Reopen Sept. 8—Summer Improvements Authorized.

The town school board had a long and exhausting session on Tuesday evening in the office of Supt. Edward J. Graham in the city hall, and after waiting through a long list of matters from 8 o'clock until 10:45, adjournment was taken until the evening of the 15th of this week, when there will be further business for its attention. Charles O. Murphy, president of the board, presided at the meeting. Mr. Leroy was in his chair and the other members in attendance were Attorney Thomas J. Kelly, Dr. Patrick J. Cassel and Robert McNeely, and in spite of the heat they gave the educational interests of Norwich a most efficient session. Supt. Graham was also present.

The matter of closing the so-called Mill school at Norwich town, which was discussed at the meeting, was thoroughly discussed. The visiting and examining committee had interviewed the parents of pupils who attended the school and by personal observation had gained a survey of the conditions and the matter of that part of the town, their conclusion was that it would be best to maintain the school.

The board gave its consent to the petition of Miss Marguerite E. Vetter, teacher in the Greenville school, for a year's leave of absence.

Miss Winifred Driscoll, who has been teaching in Stonington, and Miss Lillian Calkins, who a year ago taught in North Coventry, were recommended by Superintendent of Schools, as substitute teachers in the schools of the town or next year. Both are Norwich young ladies and their appointment, after due consideration of a large number of eligible equipment, was a compliment to their training and abilities.

Deputy Judge Henry H. Pettit presented a copy of the Plan of Health, the well-known group unveiled not long since at Plymouth, and this, received with appreciation and thanks by the school board, will be placed in the Broadway school as a daily reminder and source of inspiration to the passing pupils.

Metal ceilings for the various rooms of Mt. Pleasant street school, interior decorations for the Laurel Hill school building, and the painting of the Greenville school were decided upon. Several general repairs in the various buildings were also authorized.

Tyler D. Guy and Cornelius J. Downes were reappointed examiners of school children. They have held that office for three years under the town board, and are efficient and well qualified for the duties.

Arrangements were made to have all the schools fumigated during the summer, so that the reopening in the fall would be without the danger of the date of Sept. 1 was set for the resumption of school.

Another session on Saturday night was held for the purpose of opening bids for plumbing at Pearl street and the installation of heating systems at East Great Plain and at Yale.

Upon that date he takes the superintendency of the Massachusetts Homopathic Hospital in Boston, and the provision made by the trustees will enable him, if he desires, to return here at the end of the year. HERE'S A YOUNG CHARLIE CHAPLIN
Ten-Year-Old Vincent Sully, of the Sullys, Has the Makeup and the Funny Stunts.

Out in the foyer of the Davis theatre for a time Tuesday evening, there was a little act going on that was not on the programme and yet to those who were in the audience, it was a much interest—human interest, any way—as the movies inside. It happened when Vincent Sully, sixth and youngest of the family of Sullys, so young he doesn't get in the "big" act yet—got loose from behind stage and appeared out in front in a new and altogether complete, even to the hat and the red tie and the cane, Charlie Chaplin and the antics. He is 10 years old, and bubbling over with life and as sober as a judge. He whisked his little cane around, knocked the lights off the ends of people's cigarettes with it, caught others around the ankles not to make any contribution to the fake solicitors should they continue their operations.

The feeling well, either. He had the eaten some of the apple pie the day before, and that might not be the cause, but he had a stomachache. Also he had been playing ball with his brother earlier and was tired. So he tripped himself up with his cane and solemnly rolled over on the floor out in the middle of the theatre entrance. He rested ten seconds and then he got up with the Charlie Chaplin "blink-the-kind" act, and he had been hit on the head by a bread-roll or some similar weighty object—true to the pictures. Vincent said he'd been in Frisco, New York and sundry other diversified places. But the thing heaviest on his mind was that he couldn't change the Charlie Chaplin contest from Friday night to Wednesday night of the Young Vincent Sully if he could.
